Flipper is coming to your web and Node.js apps

Flipper is initially a desktop DevTool for React-Native, permitting you to inspect logs, network requests... Andrey introduces js-flipper: a package that permits to integrate Flipper with web or Node.js apps (React example). He shares various use-cases at Meta: mobile, web, Node.js, Desktop, Oculus Quest... there are also app-specific business use-cases such as a plugin providing a "log as user X" feature.

Flipper seems to be an ideal platform to build a universal DevTool, provided the ecosystem follows, so Andrey invites us all to create plugins.
